The governor with that stipulation in his possession can pardon Mooney and direct that he be prosecuted immediately on one of the eight or nine other indictments which charge him with responsi-bility for deaths caused by the same explosion, and thus give Mooney a new day in court with an opportunity to prove his innocence."

Such a suggestion from the president, the memorial urges, it is hardly conceiv able that the governor of California would hesitate to adopt. In the event of a refusal, the president is urged to compel Mooney's release as a war measire under authority of his power as commander-in-chief. Mooney's execution, the nemorial declares, would be a serious obstacle to fulfillment of the president's

Net amount unaccounted for $20,080.48 Most of the items are in small amounts, running from $100 upward, and were drawn at various times during the biennial terms. The accompanying tabulation merely gives total amounts for each biennial period.

It is stated that a number of these tems can be accounted for satisfactory, and Gev. Graham claims it is understood that some of the amounts were expended in legitimate state work.

The fact that the governor's account with the state was heavily overdrawn when he quitted the office of auditor is, however, not denied by any responsible state official. Probably the exact amount of the shortage cannot be determined without an expert examination of the books, dating back to the time that the present governor took office as auditor

"NO MEASURES BUT WAR MEASURES"

Stop, Look, Listen!

To the People of Vermont:-

Don't be in a hurry to ratify the Sheppard amendment. There is no emergency before the state. Ratification is not a war measure. If national prohibition is necessary to win the war, the president and the food administration have plenty of authority to stop the manufacture of beer and wine, just as they have stopped the manufacture of whiskey and alcoholic spirits.

STOP before you surrender a right for which Vermonters have fought and died.

LOOK at the motives of the professional prohibitionist and see what's before the state in the line of war work.

LISTEN to the warnings of every public man who loved the constitution, from Washington down to the present time.

Let Congress Do It

If the president wants prohibition as a national measure, he can get it without tampering with the constitution.

Beware of Minority Rule

The Local Option League is not opposing state or national prohibition at this time. If the people of Vermont, or the people of the United States, want prohibition, they ought to have it, but a minority of states should never be placed in a position where they can impose their will on the majority.

Regulation of the liquor traffic, or any other matter of internal police regulation, is a matter for the states, not for the federal gov-The right to regulate its own affairs is the inherent right of Vermont. That right dates back to the days of Ethan Allen, Seth Warner and the heroes of the days when Vermont had to fight for its place as an independent commonwealth. Such a right, so hardly won and costing such a price in blood and treasure, ought not lightly to be laid aside. No body of fanatic reformers should be permitted to stampede the state into giving away something that can never be gotten back. No Measures But War Measures

The Vermont legislature should have no business before it but war business, no measures but measures that will aid in making the world safe for democracy.

The legislature should be elected, not with the sole purpose of ratifying the Sheppard amendment-as the Anti-Saloon League proposes-but with the more useful and patriotic purpose of passing such measures as may be necessary to enable the state to do its part in winning the war.

As soon as such necessary measures and appropriations are made, the legislature should adjourn, not consume valuable time and expend the public money in discussing national prohibition.
